

10 years - Partnership & Perseverance

Public Launch

On May 2, 2014, six groups — Quinte Health, PECMH Foundation, PECMH Auxiliary, Prince Edward Family Health Team, The South East LHIN and the municipality — came together to launch efforts to build a new PECMH. The partners knew it would be a long road to ‘shovels in the ground’. The initial planning work was supported by the Foundation and Auxiliary.

2014

First major step toward building a new PECMH

The Pre-Capital Submission was completed in 2015, and submitted to the Ministry of Health. In January 2017, the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care approves the Pre-Capital Submission, and gives the ‘green light’ to move to Stage 1 of 5, which includes evaluating site options and a space plan.

Stage 1 approval and planning grant for Stage 2

It was standing room only when then Minister of Health visited PECMH in February 2018 to announce a grant from the province to help plan for the redevelopment and the province’s approval of Stage 1. He was welcomed by a large group of community supporters, including MPP Todd Smith.

Not even a global pandemic can stop us

In June 2020, MPP Todd Smith joined partners outside at PECMH, along with about 100 virtual attendees over Zoom, to announce the approval of Stage 2. This allowed our team to proceed to Stage 3 of 5 - detailed planning and design work for the new hospital. “This is a big step today and is the point of no return,” said Smith. “The hospital will be built.”

Premier Ford announces funding for planning & design

In October 2020, MPP Todd Smith joined partners once again outside at PECMH, along with Premier Doug Ford and Minister of Health Christine Elliott. Ford announced his government is investing an additional $8.7 million to support the planning and design of the new hospital.

2020

In April 2022, the province announced the approval for Stage 3, giving permission to move to Stage 4 of the process, the last step before shovels go in the ground. This approval included plans for a CT scanner in the new hospital design - a first for PECMH.

2022

Procure process begins

In March 2023, the Request for Qualifications (RFQ) was issued. In August, the shortlisted companies were announced. In November, Infrastructure Ontario (IO) and Quinte Health invited prequalified companies to submit a bid - releasing the Request for Proposals (RFP).

2023

In April of this year, the RFP process closed. Over the next few months, submissions will be evaluated. The construction contract is expected to be awarded this summer with construction to begin shortly after.
